

Diane Graham Named Executive Director

Dayton Ohio Habitat for Humanity (DOHH) is pleased to announce that Diane Graham was named Executive Director of the organization effective February 4, 2008. She replaces Ann Charles Watts who left in December to pursue other opportunities.

Diane is a familiar face to many of you, having a long history of involvement with Dayton Habitat, starting 20 years ago doing volunteer public relations work for the organization back when there were only a couple of staff people. "I specifically remember that it was 20 years ago because it was the year my daughter started college," she noted. Diane later served three terms of three years each on the Habitat Board of Trustees, the maximum number of years allowed. She served as President of the Board for two of those years.

Diane was previously Sales Manager for Sinclair Community College, where she was responsible for conference and meeting services at the Ponitz Center for the past eight years. Prior to that she was Corporate Meeting Planner for the NCR Corporation. Diane earned an Associate of Arts, with high honors, from Sinclair Community College; a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology, cum laude, from the University of Dayton; and a Master of Arts in management from Antioch University McGregor.

Diane brings a lot of energy to her new role and is enthusiastic about working with the DOHH staff and board to lead the organization forward. "This is exciting! I know what Habitat can do for people. It's not just about building houses; it's about changing lives," she said. "I've seen what an effect it can have on an entire family to be able to have their own home." Diane added, "I have prepared my whole life for this, and I didn't even know it!" A lifelong resident of Dayton, she resides in Patterson Park with her husband of 39 years, Frank. They have a grown daughter and son and three grandchildren.

Matt Hippenmeyer, President of the Board, approached Diane about taking the position because he was aware of her past involvement with DOHH, her presence in the community, and her involvement with corporate and non-profit leaders. "She has the combination of experience, education and people skills we were looking for in an executive director," Matt said.

In the short time that Diane has been in the job as Executive Director, her enthusiasm and "can do" attitude have been contagious. She immediately got the PR Committee back in gear to get out this spring newsletter; she has filled several vacancies in the staff; and she has been addressing the challenges of patching up a decrepit building while beginning a search for a new building to house the Habitat staff and ReStore.

She also spoke at the Valentine's Dance to benefit Women Build held on February 15th, and participated in a house dedication for partner family Tracy Hall and her children on February 28th.

As DOHH begins its 25th year serving partner families throughout Montgomery County, we're fortunate to have such a superb leader at the helm.

ReStore Rearranges Hours & Layout for Shopper and Donor Convenience

If you haven't visited the Habitat ReStore lately, you may notice some changes on your next visit. For those who are not yet familiar with this unique store, the ReStore accepts donations of new or gently used home remodeling items and appliances and resells them at a great price, using the proceeds to help fund the construction of Habitat homes.

Larry Stein and Clay Shriner are pictured with some of the myriad items available for purchase at the ReStore. The store's selection varies weekly, so savvy shoppers return frequently.

ReStore director Larry Stein has been overseeing some significant changes in space utilization. He has relocated some of the slower-moving hardware items to the rear of the store and has moved forward some of the bulkier and more popular items including cabinetry and appliances. This makes it easier for those unloading donated items as well as for buyers interested in purchasing and moving larger items out.

The ReStore's hours have also been extended to accommodate more shoppers and donors. The store is now open to the public Wednesday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

ReStore shoppers are encouraged to come back often, as our inventory changes continuously as new donations arrive on site.

The ReStore is always interested in working, good-condition appliances including refrigerators, stoves, cook tops, washers and dryers. Renovating your kitchen? Solid wood cabinets removed in good condition are popular resale items.

We will accept most items that we can resell to raise money to build more Habitat houses.

Not sure whether your items are appropriate to donate? Stop by the ReStore or call (937) 586-0860 x14 for more information. The ReStore can even come pick up large items.

The Habitat ReStore is located at 1041 S. Patterson Boulevard in Dayton.

Building Houses Building Friendships Building Lives

How do four men make a community-wide impact while having fun and strengthening their friendship? Charlie Gausling, Gerry Cassidy, Jerry Doty and Jim Basine, known at DOHH as Charlie and Company, have been doing it for years, and so can you!

Charlie Gausling began his volunteer service with Dayton Habitat more than 15 years ago. He had decided to settle closer to his hometown of Cincinnati after living in Africa, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Ireland.

Charlie, a brother in the Catholic Church, had worked in construction for eight years at his parish in Cleveland before moving to Dayton. This made Habitat a natural fit for his skills when he arrived in the Miami Valley.

At first, he began volunteering as an individual on Saturdays. In the first years of his service, Charlie met fellow volunteer Gerry Cassidy at a build site. A friendship sparked, and they have been inseparable ever since.

A few years into their volunteer service, Charlie and Gerry met Jerry Doty at another build site. Four years ago, Jim Basine joined the team.

Charlie and Company: Jim Basine, Gerry Cassidy, Charlie Gausling & Jerry Doty

These four gentlemen have had an instrumental hand in each of Habitat's homes since they came on board. Working side by side, they have built houses and friendships that will last a lifetime.

Thank you, Charlie and Company, for your dedication and service to Habitat!
